

Rex is coming to the Trade Fair!

The most ferocious carnivore the world has ever known is on its way to Elk Point this weekend for the Elk Point Agricultural Society Trade Fair.

That's right! Tyrannasaurus Rex, star of The Dinosaur World Tour which will make its debut in Edmonton on May 14 at The Greatest Show Unearthed, is scheduled to make an appearance at the Trade Fair, as part of the large display promoting the innovative and informative exposition. School children throughout the region have received free passes to the Trade Fair so they will have an opportunity to see this 'Dino-mite' addition to this weekend's show.

The Trade Fair kicks off Friday at 6 p.m. and will run to 10 p.m., with Saturday's show going from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Sunday's from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the A.G. Ross Arena. Last minute reports indicate that virtually all booths have been booked for the big event.

Recreation will play a major part in this year's displays, with boats and recreation vehicles enough to set everyone dreaming of the coming summer. A food fair, children's zoo and a wide variety of displays to interest everyone will make this another big success for the Ag Society. Included in the lineup is a photographer who takes "antique style" pictures, complete with vintage costumes. Another attraction will be a "space ball" ride.

Entertainment is also on the agenda, and will include some of Elk Point's Elementary School skipping team, a band and more.

Chamber asking NADC assistance

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce is formulating a brief for presentation to the April 20 public meeting of the Northern Alberta Development Council. Kelly Kincaid and Jeff Millican of the NADC were at the Chamber's April 7 meeting and explained how the twelve member body monitors and helps with social and economic concerns in northern communities. Elk Point is one of the southernmost communities in the NADC area, and is among the many communities which will be visited this year by the Council. Briefs on concerns are presented by municipalities, groups and individuals at these public meetings, and while the briefs may be in written or oral form, Ms Kincaid said the Council prefers both. The Council likes presenters to appear in person so they may discuss the matters contained in the brief and ask questions pertaining to it.

The Chamber's brief will focus on the current economic downturn in Elk Point and will ask for assistance in seeking out the problem and possible solutions to it.

Sharon Smith of the Business Promotions Committee told the Chamber that a business promotion which could involve the industrial area is needed, and she felt that such an event could also salute the agricultural community, possibly in conjunction with Farmers Day. Bill Hayman, who later agreed to be part of a committee to look into this type of event, said that a successful event of this nature would require long-term planning, and should be put on in such a way that it would draw farmers from a wide area to Elk Point. A large part of the next Chamber meeting will be set aside for brainstorming on an agriculture-related promotion, and interested farm people are welcome to attend and give their input.

FURRIEST HORSE IN THE SHOW - Melissa Snelgrove's eighteen year old Paint horse, Buffy, was judged the Furriest Horse in Show at the Elk Point Agricultural Society's Fun and Furry Horse Show on April 10. This was the first horse show of the season and many of the four-footed participants were still clad in their thick winter hair. Watch next week's issue for more coverage of the winners from the Fun and Furry Show. More pictures on Page 2.

Alberta Cow/Calf calls a public meeting

Alban Bugej
Executive Secretary

The Alberta Cow-Calf Association is responding to the numerous requests from northeastern Alberta cattlemen and farmers to have governments address some of the concerns prevailing within this drought stricken area of the province.

The ACCA is calling a public meeting for Thursday, April 15, 7:30 p.m. at the Ukrainian Cultural Centre in St. Paul to take input from producers on issues of concern to the area.

Besides the issues that producers are encouraged to bring to the meeting, the following three common concerns will be discussed:

1. The continued drought in northeast Alberta,
2. The increasing farm debt,
3. The future of the tripartite stabilization programs.

In spite of the moisture the area has received recently, the additional debt taken on by producers and the other problems farmers have encountered because of the drought of recent years are not going away. The drought and its effects are still here.

Farm debt in this province is still increasing. According to Statistics Canada Agriculture, this province's farm debt increased from $4.1 billion in 1981 to $6.5 billion in 1991. The servicing of debt during prolonged drought adds to the stress on producers in the area.

Policy changes in the red meat stabilization programs are being discussed right now. The ACCA feels that area producers should be heard and have input. The ACCA believes that the present programs, especially the cow-calf plan, is fulfilling its purpose. Do producers want to retain these programs or have them changed? To help producers understand the issues regarding stabilization, the ACCA has invited Herb Block, former senior administrator with Alberta Agriculture of the tripartite programs and now a private consultant, to address them at the meeting.

Cow-calf producers, other cattlemen, farmers and the concerned public are encouraged to attend the meeting of April 15 and tell the Alberta Cow Calf Association what it should talk to governments about.

All local MLAs and candidates hoping to represent this area in the Alberta Legislature are being invited to attend.

VOLUNTEER WEEK TRIVIA

Last week's trivia answers were: Elk Point Choral Society, Elks Bingo, Hospital Auxiliary, Red Cross. The winners were: Adella Jennissen, Elsie Oryschuk, Marlyne Kryvenchuk.

Now try this week's trivia questions:

1. Who has the most volunteer cooks in Elk Point?
2. Who makes sure we light up the town at Christmas-time?

3. Who offers programs for people of all ages?

4. Many walkers raise funds in May for this organization.

The first caller to 724-3800 with the correct answers to all four questions will win a prize. (Previous winners are not eligible.)

COACHES MAKE THE DIFFERENCE

Elk Point Community Services is assisting the Alberta Sport Council in recognizing the contributions of coaches who have been an inspiration in our community.

Submit the name of the coach you feel deserves to be recognized to Community Services. Nominations can also be dropped off at our booth at the Trade Fair this weekend. From all the nominations received, ten Elk Point coaches will be selected to receive the "Coaches Make The Difference Recognition Award." Of these ten, ONE coach's name will then be entered in an Alberta-wide draw for $1000. If our nominated coach wins the Alberta draw, the grant will be allocated at their discretion to one or more athletic groups within our community. Last year's winner was Sid Scharger from Wainwright.

So give some thought to who you feel would be deserving of the "Coaches Make The Difference Recognition Award." Then submit their name (and reasons why you think they should win) to Community Services. Phone 724-3800 for more information.

Motion pictures

Here are some interesting statistics regarding the movie industry. The first moving picture was projected on a screen in 1896 (USA). In 1903, the first major movie was produced. It was called "The Great Train Robbery." In 1912, Cecil B. DeMille produced the first of his many outstanding movies. It was called "The Squaw Man." The biggest blockbuster movie produced up to 1914 was called "The Birth of a Nation." Color was first introduced in 1909, however it took many years before it was perfected.

All movies prior to 1926 were silent movies with subtitles. Usually a piano player played music throughout the entire movie in the larger, more luxurious theatres. With the introduction of sound and color, the movie industry really took off and flourished throughout the US and Canada. One of the first major films made after sound was introduced was "The Jazz Singer." The most expensive film made up to 1939 was "Gone With The Wind" at a cost of $4 million.

Actually the term 'moving picture' is very misleading. There is no such thing as a moving picture - it is an illusion. When a movie is filmed, it appears on a long ribbon of celluloid film with each picture being slightly different than the preceding one. When this film passes through a projector each picture is stopped perfectly still for 1 / 24th of a second by an intermittent gear which is synchronized with a shutter fan. When a picture is stopped a portion of this shutter blade is in the open position and allows the light from the arc lamp to pass through the film and on to the screen. When the picture is displaced by another picture this blade momentarily cuts off the light until the next picture is stopped. Without this synchronized fan blade you would see nothing but a blur. When 24 pictures, each different, are flashed on the screen each second you get the illusion of motion.

The first movie shown in our hamlet was in 1920. It was a silent movie and was shown in the Veterans Hall, located about where the museum is located. During the latter part of the 1920s, other travelling movie operators visited Elk Point and showed movies. The first movie I remember viewing was in 1929. It was shown in a school classroom which now houses our rummage store. I remember the movie well, but not the title. It was a silent movie with subtitles and was in black and white. I have never forgotten this movie simply because it was the first one I ever viewed and also because it was a real tear jerker, one which had the entire audience in tears. The story was about a beautiful Indian maiden who was jilted by her lover and who poisoned herself. It was a real tragedy and even though you had to read the subtitles and use your imagination it still proved to be very entertaining.

Shortly after, other movies were held in the spacious front end of the old Soldan Garage which was located across the street from the old C.J. Markstad store. In 1931 the Arnott Hall was built and for many years, movies were shown there about once a month.

I remember viewing my first color movie with sound in 1936 in a city theatre. The movie was called "Rose Marie." It was a musical starring Jeannette McDonald and Nelson Eddy.

Other movies I will always remember are movies such as "Gone With The Wind," "Ben Hur," "The Ten Commandments," "North To Alaska," "The Lost Weekend," "Stalag 17," "Friendly Persuasion," all the "Ma and Pa Kettle" movies, the many good westerns and the more recent Elvis Presley movies. Many people enjoyed the Abbot and Costello movies which were always good for a few laughs.

In my opinion, they don't make movies like they did back in the 1950s and 1960s. Back then, they made movies you were not ashamed to take the entire family to. Now it seems the majority of films are based on sex, violence, drugs, murder and violent war movies, the majority of them restricted to adult attendance.

Years ago, everyone had their own favorite movie star. It was either Clark Gable, Doris Day, Jeannette McDonald, Deanna Durbin, John Wayne, James Stewart, Gary Cooper or Humphrey Bogart. You watched for their movies and usually you went to see them. Today, the movie star is someone you never heard of before or someone you may never hear of again. It is true, movies have drastically changed, and not for the better.

Successful season

To the Editor:

The players of the Elk Point Thunder Hockey Club would like to thank the coaching staff of Ron Dunlop, Jim Vinge, Doug Flett and Trent Farebrother for a successful hockey season. Although some people feel the coaching was done unfairly, we as a team feel the coaches did an excellent job. The coaches have given up much of their time and money in order to make us a better hockey team, and to prepare us for the Provincials.

We, as a team, feel we had a better than average season and have nothing to be embarrassed about.

Resurrection celebration of Eastern Christians to be held April 18

Dr. Roman Yereniuk
St. Andrew's College, Winnipeg

Close to one million Eastern Christians in Canada will be celebrating Christ's Resurrection on April 18. These Eastern Europeans belong to three major branches. The largest is the Orthodox Church, organized into some nine major church jurisdictions, among which the largest are the Greek and Ukrainian, as well as the smaller Romanian, Bulgarian, Russian, Serbian, and Macedonian churches. Also celebrating are the non-Chalcedon Christians who are of Armenian, Coptic and Ethiopian cultural backgrounds, as well as some of the Eastern Catholics (Ukrainian Catholics) that maintain the Julian calendar.

Difference in dates of Easter

The difference in Easter celebrations this year between the Western (Protestant and Roman Catholic) tradition and the Eastern tradition amounts to one week. In other years the difference can be up to five weeks, or, as in 1990 when the dates were together. The reason for this is that two different calendars are used. When the Easter date was fixed in the early church, the Julian calendar was in use. According to this calendar, at the First Ecumenical Council in 325 at Nicaea, the date of Easter was fixed according to the following formula:

"Easter is to be celebrated on the first Sunday, after the first full moon, after spring equinox, after the Jewish Passover."

Accordingly, until 1582, all Christians celebrated Easter on the same date following this formula. With the calendar reform of Pope Gregory XIII and the initiation of the Gregorian calendar, the established formula in some years was tampered with. For example, in some years, Easter could occur before Jewish Passover. The Eastern Churches thus never accepted the Gregorian calendar and continue to utilize the older Julian calendar, maintaining their faithfulness to the traditional formula of the dating.

The meaning of the Resurrection of Christ

In the various Eastern Churches the celebration of Christ's resurrection is known as the Feast of Feasts - the most important Holy Day of the year. As St. Paul wrote: "If Christ had not been raised, graves."

This hymn proclaims Christ's triumph over sin and death and the life-giving promise of eternity to all believers of the great mystery.

The Liturgical Services of Easter

The liturgical services of the Orthodox Church are rich in symbolism. The Easter celebration begins with the Nocturn service, when the richly decorated winding sheet, or shroud (in Ukrainian, Paschanytsia), that has been venerated by the faithful since Great Friday, is carried in procession and placed on the altar. After this, the clergy and faithful go outside the church for the Easter procession, and proceed three times around the church chanting the words of the hymn:

"The angels in heaven, O Christ, Our Saviour, sing of Thy resurrection, Make us on earth also worthy to praise thee with a pure heart."

This procession is symbolic of the baptismal processions of the early church in which the symbolism of the passage then...your faith is in vain. But thanks be to God who has given us the victory." (1 Cor. 15:14) The resurrection hymn, sung over and over again during the Paschal period, describes the joy of this victory:

"Christ has risen from the dead, Trampling down death with His own death, and Bestowing life to those in the

JACK AND JILL PLAYSCHOOL

Does your child have any of these signs: Recurring fatigue, irritability, headaches, intestinal problems? Red earlobes or cheeks when they become hyperactive? Puffy dark circles or glassy glazed eyes? Different personalities when outside? Behavior changes which recur each year at the same time? Poor concentration after lunch? A better personality and disposition if they don't eat? Inappropriate behavior at parties or celebrations? If you have been able to relate to any of the above to a particular child, that child may suffer from an unsuspected or unrecognized allergy contributing to their inappropriate behavior.

Allergies have a real effect on a person's behavior. Sometimes we as adults are too quick to blame ourselves or the child for "bad" behavior without really looking under the surface to find out why and when the inappropriate behaviors occur. There are two types of allergies: environmental allergies or food allergies. Environmental allergies are often overlooked because they can be anything in the environment around the child. If a child reacts totally different in one room than in another, they might be allergic to something in the room. Food allergies occur when the child shows a sensitivity to anything that is ingested into the child's system. If you suspect that your child may have allergies that account for their inappropriate behavior, the best thing that you can do is to record the time and dates of inappropriate behavior, where they happen, and what the child has come into contact with. Take all of that information to your doctor and have the child tested for allergic reactions. Once the allergies have been detected and treated you will be totally shocked at the behavioral changes that can occur. If you have any questions you can contact your doctor or local health nurse.

The Elk Point Jack and Jill Playschool is aware that there is always an underlying factor for inappropriate behavior and we are constantly trying to understand the reasons for the child's actions. We do realize that inappropriate behavior may possibly be due to an allergy factor and try to note the changes in behavior and if they follow any set pattern. If we think that there could be an allergy involved we will discuss it with the child's parents and assess the situation.

Eleventh annual Town and Country women's conference

Irene Magnusson
Elk Point Contributor

Vilna was chosen as the site of the 11th Annual Town and Country Women's Conference, April 6, and a snow storm did not keep anyone away. A count of 244 women turned out on this blustery day, to hear a total of five speakers on various subjects of interest to women.

Planned by a panel of ladies from from Lac La Biche, St. Vincent, Hoselaw and La-Corey, under District Home Economists from Bonnyville, St. Paul, Lac La Biche and Two Hills, the program was interesting and exciting.

Star speaker was Dr. Maxine Hancock, author, farmer, mom and granny from the Marwayne area, who filled an hour and a half with brilliant observations and methods of communicating. "Talking It Over...Thinking it Through" covered the many aspects of talking with our families, especially our mates - even when they don't want to discuss things.

Lori Holuk, Nutritionist, sketched a healthy eating guide, good for us all to follow. After lunch, two ladies took us through the aspects of setting up a home industry. Sylvia Hoeven of "Sylvia's Draperies" near Grand Centre took us through her experiences in setting up a custom-made drapery business from her farm home.

Dianna Wabie then covered her route to making "Trapline Crafts" and marketing them from her home. These interesting crafts are made from such items as porcupine quills, fish scales, etc., showing her Native imagination and creativity. She lives near Lac La Biche, but sells far and wide.

The final speaker, Merle Harris, whose background is Africa, gave us "Lady Storyteller," where the art of oral storytelling is used to teach children precepts of life and living. Her fascinating tales of exotic creatures held the group spellbound as they drew through exciting action to a point worth remembering. Mrs. Harris believes the spoken word is good, and the written word - where one translates the words into their own pictures - are excellent learning methods, whereas television leaves little to the individual imagination. She and her husband were happy they chose to move to Canada - "the best country in the world."

While the speakers were all great, the star of the day was surely Edith Zawadiuk, long-time DHE in this area, who is retiring. Several speakers hung verbal accolades on her shoulders, along with small gifts of appreciation for her many years of dedicated and conscientious service to the area. Edith has been pointing the way to good health, and good living to the inhabitants of this area for many years; you've seen her at our fairs, and involved with many, many projects. She thinks retirement will be a new task to learn. Certainly she will be missed.

The ladies enjoyed a good day out, and the informative program, and appreciate the safe bus trip over unseasonable road conditions.

Next year's conference will be in St. Paul; mark it on your mind - a day to be remembered.

NEW YEARS BABY - We have finally managed to track down a newborn photo of Elk Point's 1993 New Year's Baby, Gregory Michael Leon Babcock, shown here with his parents, John and Ruby Babcock a few weeks after his arrival on January 11. The young man is reported to be growing quickly and getting cuter by the day. Our apologies to the Babcocks - both our and the Royal Purple's photos of the New Year's Baby presentations were a failure,, and we had some difficulty finding a photo.

Orthodox Church celebrates Easter

from the darkness and death of this world is counterposed to the world of light and life of the Heavenly Kingdom.

The procession ends at the front door of the church. The priest intones the Paschal greeting: "Christ is Risen" (in Ukrainian, Khrystos Voskres) and the congregation replies "Truly He is risen" (Voistyno Voskres). The Easter hymn is now sung and the priest strikes the doors of the church three times with a hand cross. The doors swing open and all proceed into the church. This action represents the empty tomb and the faithful are the believers who, like the women and men of the Gospels, come to believe in Christ's resurrection by witnessing the miracle of the empty tomb.

The resurrection service continues with the Easter Matins and the Resurrection Liturgy which is sung in its entirety. The themes of triumph, joy and victory pervade the entire celebration. St. John of Damascus in the VIIIc. composed the Easter Canon which is sung and whose words enlighten all faithful. The Canon's first verse includes the following Paschal message:

"It is the day of Resurrection! Let us be illumined for the feast! The Pascha of the Lord! From death unto life, and from earth unto heaven has Christ our God led us! Let us sing the song of victory: Christ is risen from the dead!"

At the liturgy, it is traditional to read the Paschal sermon of St. John Chrysostom, a foremost IVc. saint of the Church. Its message is an invitation to Christians to leave their sins behind and to join as one family in Christ in the celebration of His Holy Resurrection.

Blessing of Food

The liturgy ends, in the Ukrainian tradition, with the clergy blessing Easter food baskets. Each family has prepared the traditional foods, which include colored eggs (krashanky) and artistically decorated eggs (Pysanky), Easter breads (paska and baka), cheese, butter, horseradish, ham, sausage, beets and green onions. The blessed food then becomes the Paschal meal of each family in their homes on Resurrection Day.

In the Greek and Serbian Orthodox churches there is no similar blessing of Easter food but instead the priest blesses red colored eggs, symbolic of Christ's resurrection and His love for mankind. The eggs are then distributed to the parishioners and are the first food eaten at the Easter breakfast or dinner.

The rest of the day of Resurrection is passed with family and friends in the joy and radiance of the holy day. Among Ukrainians, there exists the custom of presenting beautifully decorated Easter eggs to one another as a gift of the Paschal season. Thus in many Ukrainian homes, there exist beautiful collections of these fine works of art of the Resurrection.

Author reading and workshop

In honor of National Book Festival, the Northern Lights Library System and the Elk Point Public Library will be hosting an Author Reading and Workshop on Tuesday, April 27 at 7 p.m. in the library. Merna Summers, originally from Mannville, author of "North of the Battle" will be giving a short author reading. Following the reading, Ms Summers will conduct a workshop, "Recognizing the Stories In Your Life." Be sure to mark this event on your calendar.

Don't forget the exhibit of archival photographs and text, which tell the story of the interment of Ukrainian men at Banff and Castle Mountain during World War I, which is being shown April 12 to 14 in the library.

Last week's question was,

"What famous Canadian female writer died in April, 1942?" The answer to this question can be found in the Canadian Encyclopedia, Page 1378. Lucy Maud Montgomery was born on November 30, 1874 and was raised in Cavendish, Prince Edward Island. She is a well known writer of the "Anne of Green Gables" series.

This week we would like to mention one of our many services to the public. If a person can't find a book in our library, we can send out an interlibrary loan form to our resource centre in Lloydminster. If our resource centre doesn't have the book, further searches will be done across Canada and even into the United States.

New Books

In the next century, time travel is a tourist business, a very risky tourist business. Couriers can take travellers into any year they wish. But once there, they'd better not change history. The time patrol is watching, and those who meddle with the past may find themselves erased from it! Read what happens in the following three novels of high suspense and adventure in Robert Silverberg's Time Tours Series for juvenile readers: Timecrime, Inc., The Dinosaur Trackers and The Robin Hood Ambush.

For our adult Science Fiction buffs we have the novel 2001: A Space Odyssey by Arthur Clarke.

In our video section we have the video The Road Home. This video is about Alberta writers and filmmakers exploring the province they call home. Watch singer, songwriter and poet Sid Marty find inspiration in the mountains that are his home. Also, share the time with Metis poet Marilyn Dumont and five other famous people.

Coaches

The F.G. Miller Senior High Badminton team competed in St. Paul on April 7 at the County Cup level. The level of play and attitude that our team exhibited was exceptional. The hard work and dedication was shown when two members of our team, Renee Anderson and Kim Young, received silver in Junior Girls doubles. Although they are unable to continue on to the zone level, we feel that they would have been excellent zone representatives.

Robyn Moroziuk received gold in Junior Boys Singles. Cody Lawrence and Monty Kenyon also received gold, in Junior Boys Doubles. We are proud to say that they will be our zone representatives on April 23 in Fort McMurray. Through their play they have shown us what great athletes they truly are.

Congratulations, boys, and take it all the way!

Hospital auxiliary makes ready for May 7

Irene Magnusson

The regular March 22 meeting of the Elk Point Hospital Auxiliary heard minutes read by Genny Shmyr, and a financial resume by treasurer Adella Jennissen, who also reported word had been received from Fundraise, which we had collected labels for in return for cash. They may be returning soon, and will notify the group, if so.

'Our Family Tree' books are now on hand, in the canteen; more help is needed in the canteen, and a cart for moving supplies would be appreciated. Canteen report was by Violet McFadyen.

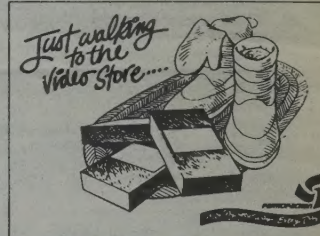

Volunteer Week was discussed, along with the Trade Fair, both coming up, as well as an Information Night. The Auxiliary will participate to some extent. Some assistance by members had been offered for the Mammogram program.

The Auxiliary Annual Tea and Bake Sale will be May 7, 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., watch for posters. Donations for this event are welcomed.

During the meeting, Mike O'Neill dropped in to film a few moments for his Volunteers in Action series, making Auxiliaries into movie stars.

A Regional Auxiliaries meeting will occur May 20 in Cold Lake. Next meeting will be April 26, at 7 p.m. President Susan MacKinnon adjourned the meeting at 8:10 p.m.
